MEETING MINUTES

Goal:

Our friend group wants to go on a 2-week trip. We each have a budget of 3000$, we have to decide where to go and what to do.

After introducing all participants, their role, and differentiating the attendees and excused:

Agenda Items and decisions:
Location, Period and why:

We have decided to go on a 2-week summer break because of our extensive budget.
We have proposed (and refused) multiple countries:
- Japan (some of us already plan on going in the summer)
- Island (too touristic in the periods that are interesting)
- New Zealand (very far away and sightseeing can be done in countries that are closer)
- Hawaii (same as Island, just not the same period)
- India

We have agreed to go to:
- Mexico in summer

What transports we will take:

- To get to and back from country: plane (approx 800$/person, round trip with Air France)
- To move once on the holiday: car rental (448$/2 weeks)

Where we will stay:

Despite the road trip not being talked about:
- We have decided to stay in a couple high end hostels (200$/night each maximum)
- And the rest of the time, staying in Airbnbs.

Where we will eat:
- Restaurants for dinner to discover local dishes
- Buying and making our own food for breakfast and lunch

Which activities were agreed upon:

- Visiting cenotes (a pit exposing groundwater)
- Going to the beach/ snorkeling/ diving/ surfing
- Hiking and sightseeing especially the:
  - Chichen Itya
- Ziplining in the Riviera Maya
